Property Description

Located within the highly regarded Derby suburb, this extended three-bedroom detached family home enjoys a central position close to Spondon Village Centre and its range of local amenities.

Main Particulars

Derbyshire Properties are pleased to offer this well-presented detached home, offering generous living accommodation throughout. The ground floor features an inviting entrance hallway, a fitted kitchen, a bright open-plan lounge and dining area, and a rear conservatory.

Upstairs, the landing provides access to three bedrooms and a family bathroom.

Externally, the property sits on a generous plot with a block-paved driveway, complemented by an attractively landscaped front garden. The driveway provides off-road parking for five vehicles: two/three on one side of the double gates and three on the other (garden) side. The rear garden is fully enclosed by feature walling and includes a private lawn, patio seating, timber garden sheds, and mature planting – perfect for outdoor entertaining and family life.

The property is also offered as a development opportunity, with the current owner in the process of applying for outline planning permission. This represents an exciting prospect for purchasers looking to add value or tailor a scheme to their own requirements. The guide price reflects the property in its current status and is expected to increase once planning consent has been granted.

The property is situated on the historic Potter Street in Spondon, a designated conservation area, with many charming period buildings nearby including The Malt Shovel PH, mansions 'Linden' and 'The Homestead', and St. Werburgh's church with its striking spire visible from the house. The village hall, library and excellent local schools are all within a short walk, making this a particularly desirable and community-focused location.

Ideal for a young family, this home is highly recommended for internal viewing to fully appreciate the space and quality on offer.

Location

This property enjoys a prime position on Potter Street in Spondon, one of Derby's most charming and historically significant streets, forming part of a designated conservation area. Potter Street and Church Street are not just any streets; they are steeped in history and character. Many of the buildings reflect the area's rich architectural and historical heritage.

The house itself occupies a site with its own story, previously home to two cottages before the current property was built in 1963, giving it a unique place in the street's narrative. A small publication, 'Church Hill and Potter Street: A history of the heart of Spondon' devotes three pages to this property and highlights the historical significance of the surrounding buildings, underlining the special character of this location.

Spondon village is well regarded for its sense of community and character. The property is just a short walk from three churches, including the historic St. Werburgh's at the end of Potter Street, whose spire is visible from the front bedroom window, providing a striking and familiar local landmark. The village is also home to West Park School (0.4 miles), a highly regarded senior school with consistently excellent Ofsted results, making it an ideal choice for families.

Potter Street offers a rare combination of historic charm, community spirit, and convenience. Its conservation status ensures that the character of the street is preserved, while its proximity to local amenities, schools, and village facilities makes it a particularly desirable location. Prospective purchasers will appreciate the historical setting, the architectural interest of neighbouring properties, and the sense of belonging that comes with being part of Spondon village.
